

Bereavement training for professionals

Understanding traumatic bereavement

Gain understanding of how traumatic nature of a death may impact grief and learn how therapeutic opportunities can help with the grieving process.

Facilitated by: David Trickey, Consultant Clinical Psychologist,
The Anna Freud National Centre for Children and Families

4 March 2019

London, £99

www.childbereavementuk.org | 01494 568909

Learning outcomes

- gain an understanding of what constitutes a traumatic event and how it impacts upon people
- support services gain an understanding of how the traumatic nature of death may impede grief
- gain an understanding of how therapy and therapeutic opportunities can diminish the traumatic effects, clearing the path for the grieving process
- recognise the role of the family and other adults around children in assisting them to “process” their traumatic experiences
- gain information about Child Bereavement UK, other similar support organisations and resources available.

There were good examples of practical ways of being able to support people with traumatic bereavement as well as the understanding and awareness of trauma.

Counsellor

Our training aims to help professionals to support children, young people, parents and families through all types of bereavement. We can also arrange bespoke training or consultancy on any type of bereavement at a time and location to suit your needs.

0800 02 888 40 www.childbereavementuk.org